Adonde Vamos?

By LANGLOIS

Let's get things in focus this week by summing up what the past six days have brought out.

All opinions are now unanimous, in that there won't be any cease fire order in Korea. We finally admit there's a war going on. That's settled anyway. From the looks of things, Uncle Sam has his back up, the Chinese are not making the headway they were, and the U N at last got around to declaring China an aggressor nation, if that means anything.

This war has showed us that as far as real friends go, they are conspicuous by their absence, which again means that we've got to get into fighting shape and get along the best we can. To do this means the heaviest investment in armaments we've ever put out. Rearmament, even if the war is short, means inflation. Your buck today buys but little. Inflation is not new here. It has been going on for a long, long time. But now it means control over wages, prices and materials. Once you start these controls, they expand, grow stronger, so long as inflation continues. Even when a stop is effected, more power is centralized in Washington. Like taxes, once on, they never seem to come off. So the best you can look for is up to five years of gradual inflation. Despite these controls, prices will keep on creeping up. Right now they are marked up to the limit. It was a well known fact that controls were coming, but prices were permitted to go up. Controls finally came, but no roll back. The cow was milked all four quarters at once. Now they are so high, mark up would be superfluous.

On wages, bonus payments will be in order; so will upgrading of workers and overtime. Consequently there will be some folding money. This will cause the average worker to disregard prices and buy regardless of price. So watch for a markup again. Lower quality goods will be the order. Then will come rationing, with the resultant black market. We are told as of now that today's dollar is a 55 cent dollar. I don't know where they get that. Against 1939 prices it is a 27 cent dollar.

The main reason for the record buying of the past six months was not hoarding but the desire to get something before the dollar dropped any lower. With the building up of the armed forces, a shortage of labor will develop. Last week the President made a statement that made sense, when he said we would obtain labor from friendly neighboring countries. All the labor needed to fill any shortage is available south of the border. Will it be permitted to come over? The answer is "No." Labor unions will put a stop to that if about the same behind the scenes fashion that they stopped the work on Highway 80.

Our 18 year olds don't know what to plan. Meanwhile our brains see to it that none of them misses a bit of limelight. A statement by one of our public figures appeared to be news to a lot of Americans. It was no news to any American who took the trouble to watch world conditions for the past five years.

This nation could be the best informed nation history has known if it would take the trouble to keep abreast of times through the sound weekly publications available at all news stands. To go back to this public figure, the gist of his remarks were that the U.S. in time of trouble found out to its sorrow that it is loved by its allies for just what they were able to get out of us.

Seems to me that I've been repeating the same thing for a long time. Most Americans know it. We are like a big pretty boy who wants the world to love him, so he thinks he can buy friendship. That is something that never was for sale. If you happen to have more, or if you are more handsome than all the boys in your particular neighborhood, you usually wind up by being envied. When you put your hand in your pocket to help someone who envies and is jealous of you, you are sure to end up being well hated. This is our case and it is no news to most of us, especially to us in the newspaper field where it is necessary to keep abreast of feelings abroad.

In a pinch these allies will help us if they figure they are helping themselves. Not otherwise.

These same allies are willing and have been dealing with the enemy whenever they saw a dollar to be made. They have had one hand out for help, while at the same time they were trying to back us into a diplomatic corner through the U.N. so that Communistic countries would gain their point.

Thus the answer is, that the nation like any individual's best friend, is his bank account. You'll always manage to have plenty of friends if you have a fat account. This, the nation is at last coming to realize.

Now, to proceed from there, we are all together in the desire to maintain our way of life. Despite all its shortcomings, it's still the best the world affords.

What we want now is less pontificating at Washington, less smearing of good Americans for publicity purposes by elected officials who are too yellow to do this without Senatorial immunity, and more action. Get those war contracts out. Watch to see where the dollars are going so that we may at least get a $2 article for $5 instead of $500.

Throw out all the brass acting as messenger boys; let them get a taste of war action different than the receptions they spend most of their time attending. In short let's get together and do something.

Final Services for William M. Miller

Services were held at 1 o'clock today (Thursday) at Paris Mortuary in El Cajon for William Martin Miller, 76, pioneer resident of Lakeside, who passed away at La Mesa Hospital Monday night.

Last rites for Mr. Miller were conducted by the Rev. John B. Osborn of San Diego. Interment followed in Greenwood Mausoleum.

He was a native of San Diego but was one of the earlier settlers of the El Cajon Valley, moving there in 1876. He came to Lakeside 52 years ago to engage in ranching and dairying. Until his retirement in 1938, he owned the dairy now operated by the McClain Brothers. In the early days the hills and valleys surrounding Lakeside provided good pasturage for his herds.

"Bill," as he was familiarly called, married Josie Ross, the daughter of another Lakeside pioneer. Her father ran a general mercantile business here for a number of years.

Rev. Osborn, an old time friend of the family, attended school in Lakeside in the early days.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller observed their 45th wedding anniversary last Saturday.

Survivors, in addition to his widow, are two sisters, Mrs. Luzette Nofziger of Porterville, Cal., and Miss Sophia E. Miller of San Francisco; three brothers, Joseph P. Miller of El Cajon; Arthur H. Miller of Escondido and Eugene L. R. Miller of National City.

Santeeans Potest Overflow From El Cajon's Sewage

A representative group of property owners in the Santee District at a meeting last (Wednesday) night registered a strong protest against conditions caused by what was charged to be inadequate sewage facilities by the City of El Cajon.

It was charged also that the run-off ditch from the El Cajon plant is not properly maintained, resulting in objectionable odors and serious danger of contamination of wells in the area.

Results of an investigation made by a committee previously appointed established the fact that these conditions were known to the El Cajon officials who were studying the problem but had no immediate solution for it as yet.

It was unanimously decided that a written protest be sent to the City of El Cajon, County Board of Supervisors, County Health Department and to the State and County Water Pollution Board.

It was brought out at the meeting that the City of El Cajon was no doubt doing the best it could with inadequate facilities for sewage treatment. The situation is serious enough that a request was made that some action by health authorities be taken.

Among suggestions from some 110 signers of the protest petition were the following:

Closer supervision of the drainage ditch to prevent stoppage.

Periodic bacteria checks of the stream by the County Health Department.

Assurances from the City of El Cajon that a plan for the permanent solution of the entire problem is definitely under way.

Further reports of the committee will be heard at the regular meeting of the Santee Utility and Interest Association, to be held in the school cafeteria Friday evening, Feb. 23.

Officers and members of the board of directors voted to recommend to the Association that it solidly support any action to alleviate the situation.

Thursday's Civilian Defense Meeting Well Attended

"Your problem in Lakeside is not likely to be the atomic bomb," Dr. L. L. Gardner told a large gathering of civic representatives and Farm Bureau members last Thursday night. It is rather, he said, one of being good neighbors. "How much help can you give San Diego, which is the likely target should a bomb be dropped?"

Dr. Gardner is chief of preventive medicine of the County of San Diego. Following the showing of the film "You Can Beat the Atomic Bomb," he told of the devastating effects such a bomb would have if exploded 2,000 feet in the air over downtown San Diego, where the heat and blast could kill or injure up to 40,000 people.

"Many of those would be medical personnel, and it is upon them that the greatest burden falls following an atomic attack.

He suggested that everyone read the government bulletin "[illegible]al Under Atomic Attack." [illegible] are available at Harris[illegible] [illegible] Lakeside.

[illegible] TOWN [illegible]

Many signed the questionaires that were passed out at the meeting. Questions asked included: What are your capabilities; do you have a well on your property; do you own a motorcycle, ride a horse; how many rooms are there in your home, and how many children do you have?

The VFW also passed out coupons asking for blood donations.

Calls On America To Rearm With "Spiritual Fervor"

"America must rearm itself with the weapon of spiritual fervor—an intense belief in the spiritual value and necessity of liberty," Admiral Leslie Gehres (USN ret.) told members of El Cajon Elks Lodge Monday night.

His talk followed a regular meeting of the lodge at which four new members were initiated in an impressive ceremony. Other business of the lodge included voting $50 to the Grossmont Blue and Gold Band, to be used for student scholarships.

LESLIE E. GEHRES

In a ringing challenge Adm. Gehres called on Americans to renew their faith in a Divine Providence instead of placing all reliance upon men and ships and money, which has not succeeded in winning the peace in two previous wars.

"We are beginning to sense," he said, "that there is something missing in this design of power on which we have depended but which never quite brings the final victory. We no longer live in the belief that individual personal freedom and responsibility, as a religious concept is the real source of our greatness."

"Practical Things" Have Failed

"As a nation we have ceased to rely firmly on the protection of Divine Providence. We haven't believed in Providence—'it isn't practical.' We've relied on hard, tangible things; steel, tools, guns, rates of production, freight cars, air frame tonnage; countable things. We won World War I to 'Make the World Safe for [illegible]ocracy,' only to see the a[illegible] the[illegible] shrink all [illegible] [illegible] ure "The Four Freedoms," only to see, five years later, the very idea of human freedom threatened with extinction. So what has been so practical about that?" he asked.

At the beginning of his talk, Mr. Gehres said the people of America are confused and commented that it was no wonder, considering the lack of agreement among the nation's leaders and their conflicting statements about the course to follow.

His own opinion is that fear is uncharacteristic of America and that we should forthwith recognize imperialistic Russian Communism as an "evil, deadly malignant enemy which cannot be appeased by a Christian people to whom liberty is an essential condition of life.'

Refuse To Be Realistic

"We undertake to implement a United Nations decision to resist aggression in Korea, a decision we sought and brought about and then when our army is forced into humiliating retreat by hordes of organized, disciplined Chinese communists we will not protect our men by bombing the bases from which the attackers come and are supplied, for fear that such action will bring into the war the very communist government which sent the attacking troops against us. We refuse to accept willing Chinese Nationalist armies as allies for fear that might trigger off the Russians in Europe, yet we openly seek allies to help us build an army in Europe under the very noses of the Soviet power."

Adm. Gehres said the Maginot Line defense theory urged by some for the defense of America is not traditional for a nation which has always believed that "the best defense is a vigorous offense. A static defense has never yet defeated the attack it always invites."

Cause Worth Any Sacrifice

"We must, everyone of us, really believe in our hearts that the sanctity of our cause is worth any sacrifice of liberty itself that may be demanded of us except the sacrifice of liberty itself. We must daily practice the belief that freedom is more important to us than comfort or bigger profits or higher wages or any material gain. If any of us believe that we can have these things without liberty we have only to look at how little of any material things or comforts the people have in the lands where liberty has disappeared."

At the conclusion of his talk Mr. Gehres was given a rising ovation. He was introduced by I. J. Wells, exalted ruler of El Cajon Elks Lodge.

During the past year and a half, Mr. Gehres has made many addresses, adapting the theme of Kiwanis International, "It's Fun To Live In America," and adding, "Let's Keep It That Way."

New Depth Adds 50 G.P.M. to Flow of Lindo Lake Well

The Board of Supervisors today (Thursday) authorized Mr. Anderson to go down an additional 30 ft. The well is now 271.8 ft. deep.

Another 50 gallons per minute has been added to the potential flow of water from the Lindo Lake well, it was reported today (Thursday) by W. A. Barney, chief of the County engineering department.

Ralph Anderson's well drilling rig has added an additional 72 feet of uncased 8-inch well to the previously drilled depth.

Put on test, the well then yielded from 95-100 g.p.m.

Air Fare

By PEG WHITE

A new TV comic came over the San Diego horizon last Sunday with all the freshness that's been missing on television for months too long.

Somewhat reminiscent of Abe Burrows, this Brooklyn - type character's name is Sam Levenson. As with Burrows, when Levenson was discovered by CBS brass at a private party, the network thought it had quite a find.

Levenson used to be a school teacher. He'd done a fair job of wowing the kids in class, found he could wow the adults as well. He began entertaining at private parties, branched into an occasional night club act or vaudeville run and then found himself doing guest shots on TV.

Burrows was one of his admirers and Levenson did a number of repeats on This Is Show Business.

He can be seen again Thursday (Feb. 8) at 6:30 p.m. on KTTV. And the gentleman bears watching. Most of his humor evolves from run-of-mill family situations. But he raises them to a plane of the ridiculous that's out of this world.

Take a simple thing like trying to get a kid to eat what's left on his plate. Levenson breaks the problem child down into types. The type that glowers at his peas and says, "They shall not pass." T[illegible]hropist wi[illegible]or h[illegible]e gain weight. [illegible] whose mother makes [illegible] an issue of it all that he's still muttering "Farina" 20 years later.

IF THERE ARE THOSE WHO doubt the need for blood for the armed forces — and apparently there are for San Diego has failed abysmally to meet its quota of blood for American wounded for the past three weeks—Edward R. Murrow has scheduled some evidence worth listening to on Friday night. On his program, Hear It Now, to be carried by KCBQ, 8:30-9:30 Murrow plans to tell the story of blood on combat.

Those participating by tape-recording include Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Gen. Matthew Ridgway, a pilot who flies blood to Korea, the mother of a wounded soldier and a GI whose life is saved by blood at a first aid station in Korea.

In passing, your columnist wants to pay her respects to Bing Crosby. Again this week Crosby invited Judy Garland to be the guest star on his radio show. Since Judy's last unfortunate round of headlines Crosby has invited her to be on his program at least half a dozen times.

Doubtless he'll continue to do so till Judy has regained the poise and confidence and position in show business her talent deserves. When she makes the grade, out of all her host of acquaintances she'll have one man to thank. My idea of a very "right guy."

Best Radio Bet Thursday: Fred MacMurray stars in "Windy City Six" on Suspense (6-6:30, KCBQ).

Lakeside Home Dept. Projects

The Home Department of the Lakeside Farm Bureau has a number of worthwhile projects under way. They are under the leadership of the Clothing and Sewing project leaders, Mrs. Laura Meyers and Mrs. Ann Macgillivray.

Mrs. Delphine Wilson, Home Advisor of the Agricultural Extension office, held leadership training meetings, which the two leaders attended.

So much interest was shown at the last meeting on "The Most Useful Machine Attachments" that a follow up meeting will be held. All attending will make an apron which will incorporate use of attachments and a few tricks in sewing.

Some time will be spent cleaning and oiling machines. One of these meetings has already been held and attendance was very good.

Mrs. Clara Foster, last year's clothing leader, has taken charge of arranging another "Coat Making" Class. With Spring around the corner many new coats will be needed.

Any of these meetings can be attended by a woman who is interested. The subjects and the leaders are:

"The Most Useful Machine Attachments"—Mrs. Laura Meyers, Rt. 1, Box O-5.

"Cleaning and Oiling of Machines"—Mrs. Ann Macgillivray, Rt. 2, Box 687.

Coat Making Class—Mrs. Clara Foster, Rt. 2, Box 235.

A special project under Mrs. Wilson is about to get under way, called, "Making the Better Dress." Leaders who have volunteered are Mrs. L. Meyers, Mrs. A. Macgillivray and Mrs. Opal Hutson (Rt. 1, Box 44).

Any woman who wishes to become a class member should contact any of the three not later than February 17.

A combined meeting of class leaders and members will be held Wednesday, Feb. 28 at 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Home Economics Laboratory in the Extension office building at Rosecrans and Pacific Highway.

This will be a preliminary planning meeting and is very important.

Home Department meetings are held the fourth Friday of each month at the Scout Hut in Londo Park. Potluck lunch is held. All interested women are welcome.

Ronald Kuhner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Kuhner, has been called to the service. He reports at Ford Ord February 15.

SANTEE NEWS

A few volunteers carried the load during the week-end alert at the Santee air observation post. These observers were Marjorie Myers, Fred H. Myers, Roberta Underhill, Charlotte Hagstrom, Angeline Martinez, Marynell Ahlwardt, Bill B. Ahlwardt, Nolen Pumphrey, Roy Domenigoni, Jane Ridley, Jack Thompson, Sabra Shipman, Perry Shipman, plus Floyd Englant, chief observer and Edward Monti, chief supervisor. More watchers are wanted.

The Cub Scouts of Santee won a blue ribbon for Outstanding Achievement last Saturday at the big exhibit held in the Federal Building, San Diego. Their display portrayed Santee in bas relief on a 4 by 8 base, a composite work of the five dens under the direction of the Den Mothers and Mr. Westphall.

The Santee pack is under the sponsorship of the Santee Utility and Interest Association.

A group of Scouts is being formed and those boys interested may contact Mr. Westphall for further information.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Good and their two young sons have sold their home on the Valley road and moved back to Barstow where they spent a year. He will be in government employ. Les was formerly an active member of the Volunteer Fire Department.

The Good's cousins, the Al Sweetens have also left the Santee area and have settled near Bakersfield.

The Ailsworths, who have purchased the Stevens hilltop home, are busily making more improvements on that attractive site. They are building an apartment, plus an attractive all-purpose activity room.

Saturday at 2 p.m. the Junior Department of the Community Methodist Church will have a party in Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Virginia Wyatt, secretary of Children's Work for Southern California, will be in charge of the Department for four more Sundays. She and her husband, Dr. H. Wyatt of Whispering Pines spent the week-end as guests of the Huckabys.

Last Sunday the grandparents Strickler and Divines had a field day with grandchildren Gail, Brucie and Clydene at the white house at the corner of 1st and Park, and young Dennis Sweetland of El Centro at the Divines.

The MYF is meeting at the Community Church at 2:30 p.m. Sunday and going to El Monte for a picnic and evening service.

More mothers are needed to help build constructive programs for the Brownie and Cub Scouts. Anyone interested in a program of arts and crafts, outdoors, and games are asked to contact Willard Westphall or Gelene Harritt. There are now enough girls interested in the Girl Scout program to have five troops, instead of the three registered at this time, so more adult help is required. The Scout program has been classed as a semi-official agency by the United States Government and boys and girls participating in it have a chance to be of real service in many capacities.

A project that is attracting much attention from Girl Scouts now is the collection of paper-bound books and magazines, and decks of playing cards. Give yours to your favorite Scout for distribution through the Red Cross for our soldiers and sailors.

Rev. Felder of Encanto, recently directory of an Indian Mission, will be the speaker at the WSCS meeting next Thursday, February 15.

The community is invited to a cookie rally to be held in Fellowship Hall, Santee tonight (Thursday) at 7 p.m. The local troops, in addition to those from El Cajon, Lakeside, Bostonia, the Crest and Alpine, will contribute acts for the entertainment, and refreshments will be served.

Toastmistresses Plan for Convention

A business and round-table discussion occupied the attention of members at the last meeting of the El Cajon Valley Toastmistress Club.

The next convention, which will be held this year at Denver, came up for discussion, as well as the theme for the speech contests which will soon begin.

Ruth Baker, who had been granted a leave of absence, announced she was back in San Diego to stay, having sold her property in Arizona.

The cup winning feature of the evening was a round-table conducted by Ila Lawson: "Should a Course in Family Living Be a Mandatory Subject for High School Students?"

This proved to be a subject on which everyone had something to say. Orang[illegible]oves [illegible]epper Trees Provide the Setting

Pictured above is the Model Home now on display in the new J. W. Anderson subdivision located on Pepper dr., approximately a half mile West of Magnolia, in one of the most picturesque subdivisions opened to the public in the past year.

Laid out in an orange grove, on a street shaded by giant pepper trees, whence the name "Pepper Drive" originates, the homesites are ideal for those who desire country living with city advantages.

The Lane Realty, which is handling the sale of these homes, report that there is so much interest they expect to have the tract sold out soon.

MRS. ARTHUR EDWARDS
Church Secretary

Vol II Feb. 8 No. 18

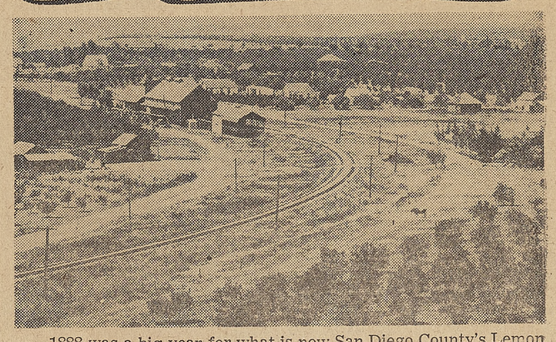
Those interested in music at the Community Church are bending their efforts in the direction of having a cantata on Good Friday night, as an important part of the observance of the Easter Season. According to present plans the participants will rehearse in sections. The women will practice on Wednesday afternoons from 4:30 to 5:30 under the direction of Mrs. Trigg Stewart, and the men will do their preparatory work on Sunday evenings from 8:30 to 9:30 under the direction of David Price. Included in the cantata is one selection for the voices of the junior choir. It is hoped that the friends of the church who have an interest in choral singing will join their voices in the effort. The cantata will also be a fitting observance of the first anniversary of the acquisition of the new organ.

Last Wednesday evening the minister began a series of four Wednesday evening discussions of the history, beliefs and government of the church. This is primarily for those who are comparatively new in our church and wish to know more about the church, but there is a most cordial invitation to all. The group meets around a table in the Social Hall. The time is 7:30 p.m.

The churches of Lakeside are uniting in sponsoring an observance of the annual World Day of Prayer, Friday, Feb. 9th. This day is observed by church women in 92 countires. The program is prepared by The United Council of Church Women, a national organization. The Lakeside meeting will be held at the Community Church at 7:30 p.m.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY HISTORICAL SCRAPBOOK

Compiled from the historical records of
UNION TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY • SAN DIEGO



1888 was a big year for what is now San Diego County's Lemon Grove area, for it was then that the San Diego-Cuyamaca and Eastern Railway built its line through the region. This 1905 photograph from the historical collection of Union Title Insurance and Trust Company shows some of the community's many lemon groves. These groves, described by real estate developers in the early 1900's as "a sea of lemon trees," prompted Robert Allison, early San Diego County pioneer, to name the new community "Lemon Grove." Before that time, the area had been known as "Allison Springs."

The railroad, popularly known as the "Cuyamaca," had been planned to extend to Needles, California, but was built only as far as Foster, near Lakeside. There passengers transferred to stages to make the trip to the back country. In 1917, the rail line shown here was sold to the Southern Pacific and eventually became part of the San Diego & Arizona Eastern Railway.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Last week, we reported the House Small Business Committee has severely criticized the apathy of the Federal Trade Commission in enforcing the Anti-trust laws.

* * *

Congressmen can only enact Anti-trust laws to protect the economy and the consuming public; cannot enforce them. That is the function of the FTC set up 35 years ago to prosecute Anti-trust violators.

C. W. Harder

* * *

Investigation reveals that up until 1947 the FTC, finding a violator, issued a "cease and desist" order, then sat back and waited for a compliance report, in the meantime playing office politics.

* * *

Action stopped there, or as the report states: "they (FTC) spend all their time swatting new flies, do not find out whether they have effectively disposed of the old ones."

* * *

It would take little more money to enforce Anti-trust laws. Present appropriation for the Compliance Division is only $69,935. Even tripling this amount would be small change by present government standards.

* * *

FTC will probably get more Anti-trust enforcement funds. But FTC will first have to convince Congress there is life in the commission for nobody gives hay to a dead horse . . . except some bureaucrats.

* * *

In another week the President will present his tax plan to raise another 16½ billion to meet his budget plan for 74½ billion.

Congressmen of both parties can't decide whether to be amused or concerned by the budget message. They can't decide whether the budget is planned to promote defense, promote socialism, or accelerate bankruptcy.

* * *

There's little doubt the military will get close to the 42 billion. But offhand, Congressmen point to where 9 billion of the 16½ billion requested new taxes can be cut off.

* * *

The items: Marshall Plan 5 billion, proposed Brannan Plan 1½ billion, proposed socialized medicine program 1 billion, at least. These items total 9 billion. Another 7½ billion could be lopped off non-essential expenditures to make new taxes unnecessary.

* * *

Washington statisticians are amusing themselves showing how many families would be financially better off if the bread winner dropped dead.

* * *

The example: a family of four, husband white collar worker getting $400 a month. Non-smoker, non-drinker. Has $10,000 GI insurance. Been covered by Social Security since 1937. Must own car used part time in making salary.

* * *

His monthly expenses: Federal income tax $31.30; Social Security and Unemployment Tax $10; State income and auto tax $5.10, his share of family food and shelter $45, lunches $15, clothing, cleaning, etc., $14.50, car $65, medical and dental $5, GI insurance premium $7, haircuts, razor blades, etc., $5.75. Total $203.65.

* * *

But dead, Social Security pays his family $150 per month, GI insurance $50. Total $200, tax free. Family gains $3.65 per month. Gruesome, but illuminating.

Film To Show Heathen Customs

Heathen customs hidden in South American jungles and a monkey killed, cooked and eaten are a few of the dramatic sequences included in the new 16 mm. sound-color film, "To Every Creature," to be shown in the First Baptist Church, corner Cajon and Woodside rds., Monday, Feb. 19, at 7 p.m., according to the Rev. J. G. Shannon, pastor.

Filmed and recorded on a recent trip to South America by Dr. Irwin Moon, director of the Los Angeles branch of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, "To Every Creature" is a fresh approach to Missionary activities. These Indian tribes, shown as they exist without help, hope and God, have received a message from missionaries that has changed hearts and transformed lives, but the work could be multiplied by modern transportation and communication. "To Every Creature" demonstrates this by actual stories of missionaries who suffered great hardships and narrowly escaped death in canoes and on jungle trails. Other sequences show the real help modern communications and planes give to the pioneer mission workers.

"To Every Creature" emphasizes training missionary technicians as pilots and for maintenance, repair, communications, and photography work on the mission field. These subjects are included in the new missionary technical training course at Moody Bible Institute. With these technical specialists on hand, others trained in Bible work can devote more time to preaching and teaching the natives.

Why Half-Day Sessions at GUHS?

By Lewis Smith, Superintendent

Next year the entire school must go on half-day sessions until such time as the new Helix High School will be ready for occupation.

Half-day will eliminate study hall and will shorten the regular 53 minute period to 45 minutes, thus shortening each period only 10 minutes.

These conditions will be forced upon Foothillers because Grossmont will graduate a senior class of 500 and add an entering freshman class of 900. Allowing for a few dropouts, the 1951-52 enrollment is estimated at 3200. In order to provide for 350 additional, a minimum of 8 classrooms would be needed. Since plans do not call for additional classroom space at Grossmont, some form of extended, half-day or staggered schedule must be faced.

If we add a period to the school day and stagger the two periods which would be ample to take care of the increased enrollment. This does not alleviate the problem created by having all 3200 here during four periods of the day. The pressure which now exists with 2950 students during periods 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6.

The advantages of the half-day session organized on a two school basis are:

1. It will permit moving into the Helix plant without disruption of teachers and pupil schedules. This plant can be ready before the end of the first semester. Parents are anxious to get the new school in operation as soon as possible.

2. It will give the new school and its faculty a greater length of time to get acquainted.

3. It will give more students opportunities in all activities.

4. The plant will not have to accommodate more than 2000 at one time (sixth period only). (1800 at other times).

Rootstocks Affect Sizes of Oranges

Reprinted From "California Agriculture"

The size of oranges is influenced by the nature of the rootstocks on which the trees are budded.

The effect of rootstocks on fruit size was determined, over a three-year period, from commercial grading of the Washington navel and Valencia orange varieties of trees growing in an experimental rootstock orchard at the Citrus Experiment Station, in Riverside. Most of the species of rootstock were represented by several vareties.

Seasonal variation in fruit size was striking with the Washington navel. Fruit set in 1946 was small, in 1947, medium, and in 1949, large. The average increase in fruit size of the crop set in 1946 in comparison with that of 1949 could not be accounted for by the differences in average number of fruits per tree. Some seasonal climatic factors seem to be responsible for these variations.

The largest average production of large navel orange fruit for the three years was produced on the sour orange stocks, with 62% medium to large fruit. The smallest was that on Palestine sweet lime with only 22% in the large size class. Only 44% of the fruits on the average of the sweet stocks were of the large sizes. Fruit on trifoliate orange stock and on rough lemon stock averaged 51% of the larger sizes. The Sampson tangelo stock produced only a slightly higher ratio of large fruit sizes for a 3-year average than the average of all the sweet stocks. Fruit on grapefruit stocks was practically the same size as the fruit on sweet stock and about the same as the average size of the entire orchard.

Considerable variation in fruit size resulted from the use of different varieties of a species as citrus stocks.

Hearts and Flowers with Eye Appeal

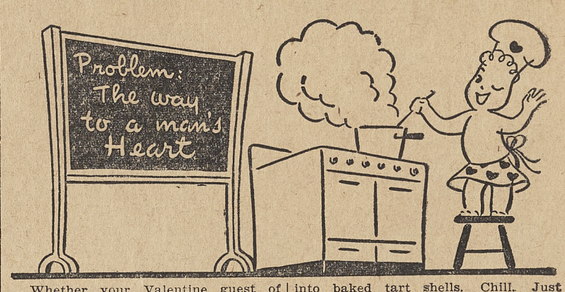
By BETTY BARCLAY

Without a doubt, the most sentimental day in all the year is Valentine's Day—the day of "hearts and flowers." So let's set our party table accordingly, with a gay bouquet and a delicious holiday dessert that's both appealing to the eye and easy to prepare, highlighted as it is with gelatin hearts in any of the popular Valentine-red flavors—raspberry, cherry or strawberry.

St. Valentine Hearts

1 package fruit-flavored gelatin (any red flavor)
2 cups hot water
1 sheet cake

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Pour into shallow pan to a depth of ½ inch. Chill until firm. Cut hearts from gelatin with cooky cutter or sharp knife, using paper pattern. Cut cake into oblong pieces, about 2 x 3 inches. Place gelatin on top of cake. Serve with custard sauce or whipped cream, if desired.



Whether your Valentine guest of honor is husband or bashful beau, remember that Cupid's smiles are often caused by good taste-teasers. You can satisfy a good appetite without taking time out for complicated kitchen work if you depend on taste-tempting canned spaghetti products for your party supper mainstay. There's a wonderful sauce in eight-ounce cans, made with either meat or mushrooms, that adds excitement to a dish of spaghetti because of its subtle flavoring and satisfying taste. A tossed green salad and crusty bread, fruit or ice cream and coffee, make an ideal menu. And it's all accomplished with little trouble. If your party menu is for two you might use a packaged spaghetti dinner, including spaghetti, grated cheese and sauce, or a can of spaghetti with meatballs, tender and flavorsome, and a wonderful sauce. You'll gain the reputation of being a real chef when you serve these treats.

Cranberry Rennet Desserts

½ cup cranberry sauce
2 cups milk (not canned)
1 package raspberry rennet powder
Chopped nuts (if desired)

Divide cranberry sauce among 4 or 5 dessert glasses. Warm milk slowly until lukewarm, stirring constantly. Test a drop on the inside of your wrist frequently. When it feels Comfortabiy Warm (110° F.)—not hot, remove at once from heat. Stir in entire contents of package of raspberry rennet powder at one time. Mix until powder is dissolved—not over one minute. Pour at once, while still liquid, into dessert glasses over cranberry sauce. Do not disturb for about 10 minutes, while milk sets. Then chill in refrigerator until serving time. Just before serving, top chilled rennet desserts with chopped nuts.

Cherry Tarts

⅓ cup sugar
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup light corn syrup
2 tablespoons water
2 cups drained canned red sour cherries
¼ teaspoon almond extract

1 recipe Easy-Mix Flaky Pastry
½ cup heavy cream, whipped

Combine sugar, flour and salt in top of double boiler. Add corn syrup and water and mix well. Add drained cherries. Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens (about 10 minutes). Cover and continue cooking about 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat. Add almond extract. Cool. Turn into baked tart shells. Chill. Just before serving top with whipped cream, sweetened to taste.

Easy-Mix Flaky Pastry

Makes 6 large or 12 small tarts
(All measurements are level.)

Sift together 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour and 1 teaspoon salt. Combine ½ cup salad oil with ¼ cup plus 1 tablespoon ice water in measuring cup. Beat with fork until thickened and creamy. To avoid separation, immediately pour (all at once) over entire surface of flour mixture. Toss and mix with fork. The dough will be moist. Form into ball.

Shape dough with hands into flat round. Place between 2 squares wax paper (about 12 inches square). Roll out until dough forms circle, reaching edges of paper. Remove top sheet of wax paper. Cut rounds, remove from wax paper and fit into tart pans. Fold edge and flute. If desired, fit rounds of pastry over the back of large muffin pans and trim to fit. Prick entire surface of crust. Bake in hot oven (475° F.) 5 to 10 minutes.

Strawberry Bavarian Pie

1 package strawberry flavored gelatin
1½ cups hot water
¼ cup sugar
Dash of salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 box quick-frozen strawberries, crushed
1 cup cream, whipped
1 baked 9-inch pie shell

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add sugar, salt, and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened. Add strawberries. Then fold in cream and turn into cold pie shell. Chill until firm.

Chantilly Coconut Tapioca

¼ cup quick-cooking tapioca
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups water
1 cup orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
½ cup cream, whipped
1 cup coconut, cut

Combine quick-cooking tapioca, sugar, salt and water in saucepan. Place over low or medium heat and cook until mixture comes to a full boil, stirring constantly. Add orange juice and rind and remove from heat. Cool, stirring occasionally. Chill. Then fold in whipped cream and coconut. Pile lightly in sherbet glasses. Garnish with additional coconut. Makes 6 servings.

Believes Cloud Seeding Will Fill Lake Moreno

MORENO LAKE—W. H. Harris, real estate broker, was in the middle of packing for a trip to Hot Springs, New Mexico. But he took time out to tell us of the recent sale of two Lake Moreno properties and to emphasize his confidence in the rain-making program scheduled for this district. He fully believes, once this program is under way, that Lake Moreno will be filled by July.

Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it.

CAMPO RESIDENTS LEARN FIRST AID TECHNIQUE

An interested audience watches demonstrations of artificial respiration technique under the direction of Cora E. Russell, American Red Cross First Aid Representative. Pictured in front with Mrs. Russell are Robert Liggett, and (rear) "Pole", O. E. Shattuck and "victim", William Dart. .

Presented at the Rock House under the sponsorship of the Mountain Empire Home-Makers Club, Mrs. Russell gave many important points on artificial respiration; including the teeter-totter method for infants, first aid in a boat, and how to revive a man shocked on an electric pole. The audience enjoyed this one when O. E. Shattuck made like a pole, and William Dart made like the shock victim.

Mrs. Russell reports she is receiving enthusiastic cooperation and attention for her First Aid Classes throughout the back country and feels this is indicative of the sincere interest of the people. She also reports that a First Aid Class at Tecate is under way.

HIGHWAY HI-LIGHTS

By WILLA DAY

CAMPO — Highway 94 Club, enthusiastic with plans and projects for improvement of the highway and betterment of the back country, met February 1 in the Mt. Empire School Cafeteria. Roast turkey dinner was served. President Charles E. Sanders said an outstanding feature of the meeting was Dr. J. K. Holmes' discussion of atomic energy and first aid for atomic blast. Picturesque movies of the Alcan Highway were also shown, and about 60 members thoroughly enjoyed the meeting. A box social, first Thursday in March, will be held at Barrett Cafe, for the next meeting of Highway 94 Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stark are completing plans to move into their new home on Buckman Springs Road soon. And their youngsters. Ross, Zola May and Judy, are filled with pride at the exploits of their smart dog, Smokey, who wakes up the children on school mornings, escorts them to the bus, and sees that they are properly supplied with lunches. Smokey (part Huskie, part Collie) is going to be married this week and Mrs. Stark will be proud to have any reservations for offspring of this fine animal.

PINE VALLEY: It's a bouncing baby boy for Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Montez of this district. Mama and baby (papa, too) are doing just fine. Dr. Eleanor Hamilton officiated. Ray Truite, manager of Pine Valley store, tells us they have a new butcher, Chuck Bryant, over from Campo way, and if you will drop in to see him, he will serve you with some very fine meats.

GUATAY—An attractive new stopping place on Highway 80 will open its doors this week. This will be the Holiday Cafe and Motels at Guatay. Formerly the Mt. Guatay Lodge, this property was recently purchased by George D. Latham of San Diego, and behind closed doors an extensive remodeling program has been going on. Painting of the interior and exterior of the main building, putting on new roofs, installing new septic tanks, deepening of the well, and generally improving the property, has been the ambitious program undertaken by Mr. Latham. The "Holiday" will be operated by R. F. Ruffin of San Diego and let's all drop in and get acquainted with him. And a nice bow to Mr. Latham for his confidence in Highway 80!

ALPINE—Last call for the Alpine Womans Club Treasure Chest party in Alpine February 9. Door prizes, table prizes, games (players' choice), and of course the grand prize of the Treasure Chest, will all add to the fun. Tickets are 75 cents. For reservations call H4-2428 or H4-2347.

Don Bates' associate, G. Martinuzzi, sold the home of William Cole recently to Michael Babillo. And young John Bates is diligently working on his new property. He is moving the cabin over by the orchard, remodeling the cabin and has some ambitious plans brewing.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Sessions are Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McClellard of San Francisco, who stopped off at Alpine at the end of a three months' tour. We've heard these folks love Alpine and may settle around here.

Douglas L. McKee, USN, is back home again after seven months in Korean waters. On a 30-day leave, Douglas and Lucille and son, James, are enjoying a grand reunion.

Carl "Deke" Allen has painted his fishing boat a flashy white and is going fishing over on the Colorado River. He will be accompanied by his friend, Dr. Paul R. Jacobs. And, by the way, we found out from Carl how come he's called "Deke." And we're going to tell! While in service, Lieutenant Carl Allen of the U. S. Coast Guard sometimes found his quarters cramped, so he'd spread his flying maps and charts on the floor. Then he'd kneel down to study them. Along came a C. O. one day and observed Carl on his knees. So he asked, "You praying, Deac?" So "Deac' became "Deke" ever after. And now you know.

AROUND AND ABOUT: That nice Texas boy, D. M. Shelby, who operates the gas pumps at Laguna Junction, is still scratching his ear and marvelling over the luck of the six Californians whose car slid over the Sunrise Highway and got smashed to pieces—and they all got out and walked away . . . John Duffy joined the Marines Friday, Jan. 19 and is stationed at the Marine Recruit Base in San Diego . . . We hear that starlet Margaret O'Brien will be down for the ground-breaking ceremonies of the Alpine Youth Center . . . Mr. and Mrs. George Butcher, of Alpine Supply, are off to Arizona on a two weeks' jaunt . . . Charlie and Bert Bribideau, recently injured in a highway accident, are resting comfortably at home now and Bert's foot will soon be out of its cast . . . Troop 105 Scouts Win High Honors At Court of Honor

Troop 105 of Alpine was well represented at the San Diego Council Court of Honor held last Wednesday, Feb. 7., at Hoover High. High honors were awarded to Assistant Scoutmaster S. P. Archer and to seven boys of the Troop, all of whom received awards for advancement in Scouting ranks. Other members of the Troop were given Merit Badge awards.

Senior Patrol Leader Claude Bailey, Assistant Scoutmaster Buddy Archer and Quartermaster Michael Kern were presented with life Scout awards, while Star awards were presented to S. P. Archer, assistant scoutmaster, and to Jack Boyd, senior patrol leader; Bob Randazzo and Frank Peterson, patrol leaders, and Dick Randazzo, assistant patrol leader.

Presentation of the Blue Ribbon, emblematic of outstanding achievement was made to Troop 105 at the Craft and Merit Show held Saturday, Feb. 3 in the Federal Building at Balboa Park. Troop 105, the only one representing the Grossmont District at the show, displayed the 20-foot signal tower which will be placed at Scout headquarters as a contribution to the camp, and also put on a camping demonstration, an exhibition of rock cutting and polishing, brick laying and other exhibitions. Approximately 15 members of the Troop participated.

The monthly meeting of the Troop Council was held last Sunday at the home of Committee Chairman L. K. Anderson. Plans for the coming month were formulated, which included an overnight hike to Lake Loveland, a trip to Borrego Springs in March, and a father and son overnight camp at Mount Palomar in April.

Other plans for this month include participation in the new Youth Center program, a drive to raise funds for the coming year through subscriptions to a local newspaper and through scrap and paper pick-up; a Troop swim at the pool in Mission Beach and reorganization of patrols according to neighborhood and locale.

Twenty-two boys of the Troop encamped overnight at Scout headquarters on a recent weekend, constructing a signal tower, and engaging in Scout advancement work. A trip was then made to North Island as guests of the Commanding Officer, Naval Air Station, at which time a tour of the Station was made.

Brooklyn Couple Found Their Place Away Out West

It's a few thousand miles, and a big change of scene, from Brooklyn, New York, to Campo, California. But that's where he started from, and in 1944 Mess Sergeant Michel San Martin found himself stationed at the U. S. Army Camp at Campo. He looked around at the big mountains, took some deep breaths, and decided this was the country for him. So he took a furlough and went back east to bring out his wife, Irene.

For a while Irene San Martin worked on the base with her husband, then the San Martins began to look around for a place of their own to have when "San," as he is familiarly called, got out of the Army. In 1945 they leased the Campo store and started in business. Then in 1946 the Army moved out of Campo and things became pretty quiet in the little mountain town. Well-meaning friends advised San he'd lose his shirt if he stuck around and tried to make a go of it.

But San and Irene loved this big country, and had a sincere deep-rooted faith in its future. So they dug in. They improved their store, sold substantial full-course dinners, got hold of some fine musicians in Dutch and Lola to play dance music for Saturday night entertainment—and business began to pick up. Folks now come up from San Diego and the neighboring back country to crowd the store and enjoy the informality and friendliness of these dances.

Today San and Irene are making a comfortable living and are well-liked members of the Campo community. San's faith has been fully justified, and he speaks with pride of the corduroy manufacturing plant about to come into Campo which will employ some 60 or 70 local workers, and add business and activity to the town. He plans many further improvements to his store (in addition to the now fine grocery and dry goods departments, handled by Irene) by way of a basement, a hardware and plumbing supplies department, and, in short, to make his store fully equipped to serve his prospering community well.

All San's customers are the recipient of his big, hearty greeting, and he speaks Spanish just like a native. He's a baseball fan, but likes a good fighting match as well as any man. Irene likes to decorate and is looking forward to having a hand in their business improvements. Roy Yorks works in the store with the San Martins, and also Irene's brother, Gene Petho, who came out from Pennsylvania a while ago and "never did get around to going back."

And San's shirts today? Well, folks—they're pretty classy!

San Diego Couple To Build at Guatay

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wier of San Diego who purchased A. F. (Pappy) Smith's last remaining 35 acres at Guatay have been busy clearing the land (with the help of the big fire), developing water, and have now started on construction of their permanent home. Mr. and Mrs. Wier are well known in San Diego as Mr. Wier has been in the contracting business for many years, and are the owners of the beautiful Marlin Inn at Rosecrans and Harbor dr. Until about two years ago the Wiers owned a mountain home two miles north of Highway 80 on Highway 79.

Mrs. Christine Rassmussen entertained a group of friends at her home Monday afternoon, Jan. 29.

Ed Johnson was brought home from Mercy Hospital Thursday by Alan Baum of Guatay. Mr. Johnson is feeling fine but will be on crutches for some time yet and under the care of Dr. E. F. Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ketchum of Corona Del Mar are newcomers to Guatay having rented the Rain's house for the time being.

A. A. Darling has moved into the newly completed home of Joe J. Mays in Descanso.

We understand that Jack Jones has joined the U. S. Marine Corps and will be leaving within a short time. Good luck, Jack.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Bell have returned from Templeton, Calif., to their home in Guatay.

Young Peoples' Service

Friday night is Young Peoples' night at the Bostonia Assembly of God church. This week special music will be featured by the Higgins family. Rev. W. M. Higgins, visiting from Holtville, will bring a special number. Mrs. George Cain, Martha, and Roberta Higgins, all daughters of Rev. W. J. Higgins, the pastor, will sing several numbers. The message will be brought by Rev. Dalton Webber, fiance of Martha Higgins.

Following the service, there will be a bridal shower for Martha in the parsonage. Mrs. Andy Goloway and Mrs. Clarence Barnett, president and secretary of the Women's Missionary Council, will act as hostesses.

E. C. Baptist Church Revival Under Way

The services of the annual Revival Meeting of the First Baptist Church of El Cajon began last Sunday night with E. Woody Hodson as evangelist.

A splendid crowd attended the opening service which was marked by spirited congregational singing, inspiring special music by a large youth choir and vigorous and challenging preaching.

E. WOODY HODSON

Evangelist Hodson compared the possibilities of revival in these days to that of the days of Elijah, when all the people came together on Mount Carmel to witness the contest between the priests of apostasy and the prophet of God, when the fire fell upon the altar, the people fell upon their faces in repentance and the "axe fell" upon the sins which separated them from God.

The beautiful newly furnished and redecorated auditorium of the church provides spacious accommodations with comfortable seating, a parent's room at the rear behind plate glass partitions and a piano and organ to furnish the musical setting.

Mr. Hodson is the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Fullerton, Calif. A frequent leader in revival meetings and popular speaker at men's meetings and youth rallies, the evangelist brings a Bible centered message garbed in the familiar terms of our present day. Seasoned with humor, but dead-in-earnest, the preaching is pointed at the heart that needs Christ or must find the solution to some pressing life problem.

Friday night will be "Youth Night" with the message on "Samson and Delilah." The Sunday morning service will center about the theme, "How Important is the Church?", and Sunday evening, "What is Your Spiritual I.Q.?" These meetings are designed to serve the whole community and people are urged to come and enjoy the fine fellowship, music and stimulation which these services afford.

Fortitude I take to be the quiet possession of a man's self, and an undisturbed doing his duty whatever evils beset, or dangers lie in the way. —John Locke

Pen Women to Have Poetry Work Shop

By WILMA KRUGER

Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman Willier will be chairman for the February 21 program, San Diego Branch, National League of American Pen Women at 2 p.m., San Diego Woman's Club. Miss Mary Paula Chapman will be co-chairman.

The program will open by Mrs. Mary L. Busey, a new member, playing, "Far Away Places" establishing the atmosphere for a travelogue talk by Mrs. Willier and Miss Chapman of the far away places they visited on a three months' tour of Europe. The talks will be illustrated with color pictures taken of historic spots in Ireland, England, France, Italy and Switzerland. Guests are welcome.

Mrs. Willier and Miss Chapman, both past presidents of the branch, are constant contributors to juvenile magazines. Mrs. Willier is also an author, a poet and an article writer. Her story about La Jolla, "Angels Must Have Wings," was published in the December issue of "St. Anthony's Messenger."

It has been whispered that her new book, "Quien Sabe," a charming romance of Old Mexico, will soon be made into a movie. She is now working on another book, an historical romance with a Paris setting.

Mrs. Willier has achieved success with her poetry, also. One of her poems, "Silver Wings," first published in a Kansas City poetry magazine, has been reprinted in several other magazines.

At the close of the program the well known critic and poet, Miss Anna M. Priestley, will conduct a work shop on poetry. "Five Important Points of Good Poetry" will be the subject of her discussion. Poets with problems are invited to attend.

Mrs. Wilma Kruger, president of the branch, has called a board meeting for 12:30 and a business meeting for members at 1 p.m. Poets of the league will be asked to elect a permanent poetry chairman.

P. R. Halls Sell Ranch In San Vicente Farms

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Hall have sold their 18-acre ranch in San Vicente Farms to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walcott of San Diego. The latter will move here Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Hall have bought a residence on Date st. in Bostonia in the Orange Vista tract.

Roy J. Hall, USN, Hospital man 1-c on the USS carrier "Leyte" is in port with his ship from Korean waters and is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Hall of Bostonia.

William E. Hall, USN, boatswain mate 2-c, also a serviceman son of Mr. and Mrs. Hall, is due in port Saturday aboard the LST 1138. His ship has taken an active part in the Korean war.

Ramblin' Around

The government tells the American people to tighten their belts for higher taxes are coming. We can take it, but would it be amiss for the Government to draw up the belt a couple of notches? It is proposed to load taxes onto cigarettes and autos, to name two items. This would put them in the class with fur coats, where they definitely do not belong. Now the Federal government indulges in many luxuries in the way of excessive and over-staffed bureaus. We would put the free services offered by the Government Printing Office as one luxury we can well dispense with when money is so badly needed. Our own State of California has several luxury items on the expense bill, such as unemployment compensation and child care centers. Surely in times of industrial expansion, unemployment is not a problem. It would set better with the people if the government trimmed its own sails first before levying additional taxes.

Frank Eicholtz, who came to Lakeside Sunday with the Roving Toxophilites archery club, can do things with a bow and arrow that would probably have made the Last of the Mohicians sit up and take notice. He is consistently among the top contenders in field archery contests and at a recent merchandise shoot at Pasadena, took second place. He is so modest and unassuming, though, you'd never know to talk to him that he is one of the best shots in the nation with the bow and arrow. Until last year or so, he and several other sportsmen got an annual permit to hunt wild goats on Catalina Island, using only the bow and arrow. It doesn't take much imagination to picture how rough it would be drawing a bead on a crazy wild goat leaping through the brush and tearing up and down Catalina Island's rugged canyons. Yet on one trip Frank bagged five goats. In case you want to try something a little different, such as hunting mountain lions or grizzly bear with a bow and arrow, Frank can give you some valuable advice. Drop in and see him at his archery store at 3719 Adams st.

The sick list this week is a long one and includes such normally active people as John Westrick, Isobel Johnson, Ted Gimble, and teachers, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Sheedy from the Lakeside School. Mary Hughes and children, the Ted Sherman family, Meda Rosado, Miss Westrick, Dorothy Robinette, Charlene Russell, Dick Hoffman, Phil and Donna Ferris.

Lindo Lake is proving an asset to Lakeside, even when dry. The number of archers who used it for a target range Sunday said they had never found a better place to contain their arrows. One restaurant in town is said to have been overrun with business at the lunch hour Sunday.

Supt. Walker pinch hit for one of the school bus drivers, who was ill with the flu this week. We drove past the head master as he was making the morning pickup of youngsters and he looked a bit worried. Maybe he was thinking about what would happen if he didn't get the bus to school on time.

They did it again just to prove it was not a fluke the first time. Only difference was that their wives went along. Could be they wanted to check up, or could be they like to fish, too. Anyway, Fred Mack, Herb Bouchey and Bill Berdux went fishing up to San Vicente again Wednesday and came home with a barrel (almost) of bluegill. Their wives helped with the catch — 123 fish, weighing 48½ lbs., caught in 4 hours' fishing. It was the location on the lake where they caught the limit on opening day. Being real estate men, Fred and Bill have got that part of the lake staked out.

If you notice a dazed expression on the face of Mrs. Bill Kuhner, blame it on the $100 she received in a bank night drawing at the theater Wednesday. A $100 will buy a lot of surprise.

Square dance and folk dance instructions are given weekly at the Lindo Park school by Mr. and Mrs. David Hanson, Thursday nights, 7:30 to 9:30. You are invited to attend, learn and enjoy the dances of covered wagon days.

The new International - Harvester Refrigerators are being shown at Bob Jordan's Lakeside Electric Appliance Store in Lakeside and judging by their features and reasonable prices, should find their way into many local homes. They have a large freeze compartment across the top and are fitted with racks inside the door. The door opens with ease and the large handle comes in colors to match the kitchen. Another innovation is a butter conditioner, conveniently placed. Bob says terms can be arranged.

Earl Johnson was an early riser Tuesday morning and his reward was to see the atomic flash that lighted the Nevada sky. Earl says he thought his house was jarred by the explosion about a half hour later, and it must be so, because many other people in the county reported the same thing.

Spring has come. The reason we know is because we can see the blossoms opening on the beautiful flowering peach trees across the street from the Eddie Harrison backyard. It's day. It's really better than growing it ourselves, for we don't have to prune it and keep it watered. And we must admit our own thumb is not too green.

Bridal Shower Honors Mary Griffin

Mary Griffin Chambers, a recent bride, was the honoree at a shower Monday night in the home of Mrs. Woody Turrentine, Lakeside Farms. Approximately 30 friends and neighbors who have known Mary since her "pig-tail" days gathered to wish her happiness and present many lovely gifts for the young couple.

Climax of the evening was presentation of a beautiful wedding cake which was prepared for the bride by her mother, Mrs. L. R. Griffin. Little Duncan Turrentine stood by Mary, serving as substitute for the bridegroom who was unable to attend, while she cut the cake. He accepted a small piece which she placed in his mouth and in turn gave her his offering.

Refreshments were served buffet style by Mrs. Turrentine and Mrs. Griffin. Basket favors carried out the wedding shower motif.

Pictures of the bride, her cake and gifts, and of the assembled friends were taken by G. N. Ballou, a friend of the Griffin family for many years.

Fifty Women Attend Church Luncheon

Another lovely luncheon was served to 50 women Tuesday, Feb. 6, at the Community Presbyterian Church. The Triangle Circle was in charge. The decorations were carried out in red and white with valentines, red candles and red berries used. Following the luncheon secret pals were revealed and gifts distributed.

Mrs. Vivienne Boyd played beautifully on the Baldwin organ and the Trio from Grossmont was thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs. Croft gave a very fine devotion. Mrs. E. J. Henry presided over the meeting. Another luncheon will be held in March on the first Tuesday when the Executive Board will be in charge.
